Fine Arts Center Holds Open House

Your Lynchburg Fine Arts Center was established through the combined efforts of interested members of the community who dreamed of the day when a cultural focal point combining art, music, theatre, and dance would attract children and adults to participate in amateur activities in the arts, or by choice, serve as spectators.

Now that it is a reality, and has been since its dedication in 1962, we might ask ourselves several vital questions: What does the Fine Arts Center mean to the people of Lynchburg? How does it serve the community, and where do you fit into its varied programs? Have you responded to its invitation to learning, self-enrichment, and most of all ENJOYMENT?

If you have not had the opportunity to see what the Fine Arts Center has to offer you, come to Arts Illustrated, The Fine Arts Center Open House, on Sunday afternoon, September 15 from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Each of the divisions have planned free activities which include: puppet shows, music concerts, art exhibits, and tours of the theatre area.

Guides from art, music, theatre, and dance will be happy to inform you about their various programs, take you on tours of the building and answer any questions you might have. DO COME ON SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 15 . . . YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID!!!

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Jehovah's Witnesses from this area are among delegates from 11 central Virginia congregations who enjoyed a two-day convention, August 31 Sept. 1 at E. C. Glass High School, Lynchburg.

P. A. Allen, District Supervisor, addressed the assembly on 2 Peter 3:11, "What Sort of Person Ought You To Be?" M. L. Wilson, circuit supervisor, developed this theme further in the two addresses, "Avoid Depression, Abound in Hope" and "Being the King of Person Jesus Christ Is."

Sunday morning 21 new ministers were baptised.

The climax of the assembly was Mr. Allen's public address to an audience of 1491 entitled, "What the Near Future Holds."

Mr. Allen siad, "As we head into the last quarter of 1974, how does the future look to you? Do today's problems and uncertainties stir your desire for better times? What now disturbs and frustrates many is that they have seen repreated evidence of how unstable and uncertain the world's basis systems are. Yet, there is a basis for optimism. It lies in the firm purpose of our loving Heavenly Father."

Regularly scheduled meetings at the local Kingdom Hall resume this week.
